A Fundraising Event for

HISTORIC VALENTOWN MUSEUM

Located in Victor, New York

ABOUT THE MUSEUM.

In 1879, Levi and Alanson Valentine constructed a 4-story shopping plaza and community center, complete with underground stables! This rare 19th century architecture has remained almost unaltered since its original construction. Valentown contains thousands of artifacts, objects & heirlooms representing 19th century history in the local areas of Victor and Rochester in New York. The property is 100% run and maintained by unpaid volunteer staff who lovingly dedicate their personal time and labor. The museum is not supported financially by the town of Victor. All funding relies on the generosity of donors, members, occasional grants, volunteer efforts, tour fees and tips collected from visitors.

WHY THE FUNDRAISER?

The original wood siding on the Museum is century old barn wood over 135 years old! It is in serious need of repairs. In some places, birds are getting into the Museum through holes in the siding! Oh, NO!

The poor state of the siding is creating a destructive situation that is endangering the outside and inside of the century old building and all of its contents. The siding is the most important element to keep the building standing. The repairs are going to be extraordinarily costly, and the desire is to match the existing siding as closely as possible. Hopes are to locate and purchase repurposed barn wood in keeping with recycling values. Costs for siding repairs must cover the siding & contractors, plus the 4-5 story very tall scaffolding that will be necessary.

All net proceeds from this fundraiser will be put toward this needed critical siding repair.
